

In Brownsburg, Indiana, Small Companies Are Big Business

Brownsburg, Indiana – the Innovation Zone – has developed a culture in which innovation flourishes, cooperation is the norm, and the quality of life is a magnet for employers and employees alike. Here, you'll find an environment with abundant resources, a highly skilled and motivated workforce, and local and state governments that understand the challenges entrepreneurs must overcome to succeed. We're home to thousands of workers with the skills needed by companies in life sciences, advanced motorsports, R&D, medical devices, and other fields where applying knowledge is a critical skill. Our K-12 schools emphasize STEM disciplines, and higher education providers work closely with employers to create the knowledge development you need.

We have a large number of buildings and sites with infrastructure that's been designed to accommodate growth, plus extensive access to power and fiber to support your long-term needs. With a central, highly accessible location and extensive highway, air, and rail transportation resources, it's easy to get where you need to be, and for suppliers and customers to get to you. These maps make that immediately clear. We're right on Interstate 74, with the I-465 loop's fast access to I-65, I-69, and I-70 just minutes away. We're served by Class 1 rail and less than 30 minutes from Indianapolis International Airport, home to the nation's second largest FedEx freight hub. Our location also puts you in close proximity to your counterparts at other innovative companies so you can share knowledge and help each other overcome the unique challenges you face as entrepreneurs.
